Street's Launches New Ink Stain Remover

Inktastic's power and versatility makes this ink remover the sensible solution for tough stain removal.

NAPERVILLE, IL—R. R. Street & Co. Inc. (Street's) has launched a new addition to the Company's powerful line of stain removal products. Inktastic™ is designed specifically for the removal of inks. Available immediately, Inktastic is a newly formulated solution designed to overcome a wide variety of both wet-side and dry-side ink and dye stains.

No matter the type of ink or dye, Inktastic effectively penetrates, loosens, and removes stains from almost any fabric. Its all-in-one efficiency eliminates the costly and tiring process of using various different stain removers and procedures, saving the customer both time and money.

Beyond ink removal, Inktastic's versatile and quick-action formula also eliminates autoclave tape and adhesives, and stubborn combination stains, including heavy greases, oils, make-up, sauces, and condiments.

The Company says Inktastic was recently introduced to distributors and customers at The Clean Show in New Orleans. It generated a lot of buzz and excitement, and Street's is pleased by the interest and feedback that they continue to receive from customers. "Inktastic is a great product. It removed a large ink stain that resulted from a broken pen, completely, with minimal effort. It really works wonders and is less time consuming with great results," said Scott Lloyd, Manager of Durham Cleaners, North Carolina.

Available through authorized Street's distributors in filled 12-ounce bottles and single-gallon jugs, Inktastic extends garment life, and increases productivity by quickly and effectively removing a variety of stains with one product, reducing labor and costly recleans.
